

City Accepts Priority Number for Purchases

At a special meeting Tuesday afternoon, the city council accepted a preference rating order from OPM for the purchase of municipal supplies. Mayor Tom McGuire was authorized to accept the priority number "P-48" from the division of priorities.

On motion by Councilman Vern Babcock, the sum of $45,000 was ordered transferred from the Municipal Water department's general fund to the municipal general fund effective Oct. 1. The city will pay the water department interest at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent for the loan.

City Clerk A. H. Bartlett pointed out that this was $5,000 less than the city had to borrow from the water department last year to tide over municipal finances until the next tax receipts come in.

City Purchases Two-Way Radio Unit for Police

Facilities of a two-way radio equipment to speed up its crime hunting operations will be supplied soon to the Torrance police department as result of action taken by the city council Friday.

After rejecting all bids, Councilman George V. Powell moved that Motorola equipment be purchased on the open market from the Galvin Manufacturing Co., at a stipulated price of $1,955. The motion carried unanimously.

The council also authorized the renewal of the city's automobile fleet insurance with the Traveler's Insurance Company.

Permission was given the Kern Oil company to install two 10,000 gallon tanks at its station in Wateria, providing the installation meets the requirements of the state fire warden.

Arrival of the new police radio equipment is expected within the month, Police Chief John Stroh said yesterday. Receiving and transmitting microphones are to be installed in three squad cars and on a fire department truck. An application has been made to the Federal Radio Commission for permit and assignment to a wave-length shared by Redondo Beach police.

A 50-watt transmitter will be installed in the police headquarters, and a 95-foot antenna will be erected above and back of the station. The radio will have a range limit of between 20 and 30 miles. Chief Stroh is installing all members of his department become trained in radio transmission work.

Vandals Shatter Costly Sodium Vapor Lamps

One of the worst acts of vandalism to be perpetrated here in recent months was the wanton smashing of all three expensive sodium-vapor lights on 190th street last Saturday night. The globes cost $25 each.

They were destroyed at the General Petroleum entrance on Crenshaw off 190th, at the intersection of 190th and Crenshaw and at the Arlington and 190th crossing. Apparently they were shattered by rocks or a high-powered rifle. Police are investigating to learn the identity of the vandals and if they are apprehended serious charges will be placed against them.

Western Work Is Resumed

Work on Western ave. is proceeding rapidly under county supervision and the new highway to San Pedro will be completed before rainy weather.

When work was stopped because of the lack of WPA help, residents in that section were in despair with the road torn up, dirt blowing all day long and prospects of detours for months to come.

The Harbor City Chamber of Commerce has been busy contacting Los Angeles city and county officials with the result that work is now proceeding rapidly and in a few weeks should see the road completed.

Last year during the heavy rains, Western ave. was passable at all times.
